This week's events Events There are no upcoming events		Description A charity project that aims to bring joy through toys to Filipino children. As one journal article put it "Children's only profession is playing with toys". As much as we adults find meaning in our work and profession, we would much hope that every child (especially Filipino children) would find the same joy and fulfilment in this stage of their lives by having and playing with toys. But, sadly, not all families could afford
Next week's events		to buy one for their kids, while some fortunate others have superfluous items. Bringing this at hand, this project very much welcome kind kindreds all over the country who would like to donate their extra or unused toys. We would gladly sponsor the shipping fee of these toys so that we could distribute them to our chosen beneficiaries. Wherever you are in the country you could take part, contribute, and donate.
